Emerson Roper Destroys His Life at Sebree City.

Shot Himself In The Head While
Alone In His Room—No Cause Known.

Emerson Roper, youngest son of Mrs. I. H. Roper, of this city, a well known young printer who had worked in the Hopkinsville offices for ten years, committed suicide at Sebree, where he had been living for six months. Wednesday night, shooting himself in the head. The young man had been despondent for some time. Further than his low spirits, no cause is known for the tragic deed.

Young Roper learned the printer's trade in the KENTUCKIAN office ten years ago and later held a position in the job department of another local office, which he resigned last November to go to Sebree and go into business with his brother, Rhoden P. Roper. The brothers accordingly purchased the Sebree Herald and had been making a success of the paper for the last six months.

Wednesday night Rhoden Roper left their room in the Herald office and went to prayer-meeting. This was about 8 o'clock and Emerson was in the office and there was nothing to indicate that he contemplated suicide. His brother returned about nine o'clock and heard labored breathing in the bed-room, adjoining the office. He took the lamp and went into the room to investigate and found Emerson lying on the bed in a dying condition. He had his clothes on his feet hanging over the side of the bed. He was dying from a pistol wound in the right side of his head and never regained consciousness, though he lived until about ten o'clock. The pistol, a 32 calibre, single action weapon, with two barrels empty, was lying on the floor. One ball went wild and made a hole through Rhoden's coat and vest hanging on the bed post. Two or three parties afterwards remembered that they had heard two shots shortly after eight o'clock. As the pistol had to be cocked, the first shot must have missed his head.

The young man's body was brought to this city on the early morning train and the funeral services were held at the residence of Mr. J. G. Hord at 3:30 p. m. Mr. Hord's wife is a sister of the Roper boys, of whom four remain.

Emerson was born in September 1874, and was in his 25th year. He was a handsome, manly young fellow, quiet and unobtrusive in his manners, and an industrious, capable workman. He was moral in his habits, steady even as a boy, and had never been out of employment. Why such a young man should have taken his own life is a mystery.

Several young men from Sebree accompanied the remains to this city, with his brother, Henry Roper, of Elkton, Jas. P. Roper and Ellis H. Roper, of this city, his surviving brothers, were all present at the funeral.

UNDER TWO INDICTMENTS

Defendant Arrested in Hopkins County and Lodged in Jail.

Jackson Cotton, was arrested in Hopkins county Wednesday on a bench warrant and brought here by Deputy Sheriff K. D. Rodgers yesterday. Cotton was put in jail. In October 1897 two indictments were found against him in the Christian Circuit Court, one for carrying a concealed deadly weapon and the other for a breach of peace. He will be tried at the June term of court.

A two year-old-child of Mr. Albert Croft, of near Gracely, died Wednesday night, after an illness of several weeks.

WITH A RIFLE.

James E. Jones Ends His Secret Troubles Wednesday.

Was to Have Been Married In a Few Days to Miss
Holt.

Crofton, Ky., April 26.—Mr. Mr. James E. Jones, a well-to-do farmer living about a mile and a half from Era post-office, committed suicide this morning about 7 o'clock by shooting himself in the left side and through the heart with a rifle gun. He was 38 years old, a widower with three children, the oldest a boy 18 years old. His wife died last September. He wrote a note on the back of an envelope as follows: "Farewell to my children, I must go, Willie save the money in your pocket to raise your little sisters."

This note with $154.15 he put in his son's pants' pocket this morning before the boy woke up. When his son put on his pants he found the money and note in his pocket and read the note and gave it and money back to his father. His father replied that "if that pistol had not snapped this morning about 4 o'clock I would have been gone now." About this time he picked up the pistol and walked out of the room on the porch. His son followed him and took the pistol from his father and took the cartridges out of the chamber. He told his son that he "had to go." After this he sent his son to the field to plow and Mr. Jones went over to a neighbors' close by, then went back home and placing the muzzle of the gun to his left side pushed the trigger with the gunstick. Death was instantaneous.

Funeral Thursday at 11 o'clock by Dr. W. E. McCord. He was a member of the Masonic order and was buried by that order. The coroner was notified and went out to hold an inquest. No cause is known. He was to have been married again in a short time to a Miss Holt, a daughter of Thos. Holt.

The Coroner's Inquest.

"We the jury summoned by Jas. L. Allenworth, coroner of Christian county, find that Jas. E. Jones came to his death from a shot from a gun in his own hands, near the heart." The verdict detailed some of the above facts and was signed by T. W. Holt, J. E. Casler, J. E. Casler, J. H. Keys, J. W. Reynolds, J. J. Clark and R. B. Clark.

DROPPED DEAD.

Ex-Gov. Oglesby, of Illinois, Who Was Born in Kentucky.

Lincoln, Ill., April 24.—Former Gov. Richard J. Oglesby fell dead near this city at 1 o'clock this afternoon. He had been in ill health for some time, but the end was unexpected.

Gov. Oglesby was born in Kentucky in 1824, and migrated to Illinois in 1836. He was admitted to the bar in 1845. He served in the Mexican and civil wars, rising to the rank of major general. He served two terms as governor of Illinois, and served one term in the United States senate.

The immediate cause of Gen. Oglesby's death was a fall, his head striking the sharp edge of a piece of furniture. The remote cause was vertigo.

SHOT IN THE SIDE.

Scrap Near Casky May Result In Death of Participant.

A difficulty is reported to have occurred near Casky a few nights ago. Full particulars could not be learned. Two colored men, Lewis Leavell and Ben McReynolds, it seems engaged in a row and the latter was shot in the side. The wound is a very serious one.

Capital City.

Americans Held at Bay and Three More Soldiers Slain.

Manila, April 27.—Maj. Gen. MacArthur has not yet taken Calumpit. The rebels are employing artillery and are making a good stand. There was much firing yesterday, but the Americans have made little headway, other than to get artillery across the river which flows in front of the town. Sharpshooters have proved annoying. The expedition of Maj. Gen. Lawton makes slow progress, on account of the difficult character of the country. The casualties yesterday were 3 killed and 11 wounded.

HAMILTON EASY.

Last Railroad Convention Held at Winchester.

Winchester, April 27.—The Democratic convention in the Third railroad district was held at Winchester yesterday. The Goebel men were in control, but the expected fight on State issues was not made, and the platform simply indorsed Bryan and the Chicago platform. Col. A. W. Hamilton was nominated for Railroad Commissioner, and in his speech of acceptance expressed the belief that he would win at the general election in November.

Attacked on the Train.

Mrs. W. F. Cox, of Gracely, was taken very ill on the train, while enroute to this city Wednesday. On arrival here she was taken to Mr. Byron Torian's and a physician summoned. She was suffering with bilious colic and was able to return home on the late afternoon train.

CHARLIE SOMMERS.

Up Against it in His Bribery Case at Frankfort.

Must Face a Jury and the Prosecution is Making a Strong Case.

Frankfort, Ky., April 27.—The trial of Charles E. Sommers, of Hardin county, for alleged bribery, was begun in the Franklin Circuit Court before a jury yesterday after a vain struggle of two hours by the attorneys for the defendant to demur the indictment out of court, or to at least postpone the trial of it until the next term of court.

The prosecution of the case is being conducted by Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin and County Attorney Polsgrove, the defendant being represented by former Senator Jo. Blackburn and ex-Chief Justice W. S. Pryor. Arguments were made on the demurrer by Blackburn, Pryor and Franklin, the Judge sustaining the latter's contention in an oral opinion and ordering a jury trial of the case.

The Commonwealth sprung a sensation in announcing ready for trial by announcing a long list of new witnesses not on the indictment, chief among whom was John H. Whallen, the Alexander manager in the recent convention. Others were June W. Gayle, of Owen county; President E. L. Samuels, Cashier Henry Lindsay and Clerk Craik Jackson, of the branch Bank of Kentucky, and Jake Riddle, James Hulett and Willis Rogers. It will, so it is said, be shown by the bank officers that certain Louisville politicians drew money from that bank on the day of the alleged bribery, and that the money was paid in $50 bills. The bills paid to Graves were of that denomination.

HORSES FOR CHICKEN FEED.

Worn Out Animals of the $3.00 Variety Stewed Down Into "Cake."

Over 1,000 horses have in the past few months been sent out of San Jose and converted into chicken feed. Horses have never been so cheap since the Americans came to California as during the past twelve months. There were two reasons for this. One, the great number raised on the big ranches, and the other the scarcity of feed. There are always old and worn-out horses.

Petaluma is a great chicken raising center. This industry is carried on there to a greater extent than at any other point in the State. With the growth of this industry came a demand for cheap feed for the chickens, particularly for the meat. Men began to cook horse-flesh and then pack it in condensed shape—a sort of meat cake. They bought the old and worthless horses or any other animal unfit for human food. This meat business grew, and the meat cake was shipped to various points and sold by dealers in chicken supplies. It is for sale in San Jose.

There seems to be some uncertainty about just what the Petaluma packers paid for the animals. At all events, there is some difficulty in ascertaining the prices. It seems, however, that the scale varies. Agents pay all the way from 25 cents to $3.50, the latter price only for large, heavy horses. Of course they always buy them as cheaply as possible, but it appears they never let a reasonably large horse go away until they had bid to $3.

One dealer on North Market street in this city says he has sent 550 horses to Petaluma during the last few months, and he knows that over 1,000 have been sent during the same months to the same place. —St. Paul Globe.

What We Do.

We don't keep goods in stock. We don't hire any clerks. We don't pay any insurance. We pay but very little rent and but a small amount of taxes. But we still buy and deliver to you any purchasable article in existence cheaper than you can get it elsewhere for the very reasons above enumerated. Of course if we carried a large stock and had heavy expenses, we would have to make big profits. But as we buy direct from the factories and have our goods sold before we order them, we are enabled to undersell those whose expenses are necessarily great.

In undertaking this business we are confident that a great cry of "Patronize home industry" will go up from those who must of necessity see higher.

Don't be deceived. Ours is a home industry too. We send to more money away for goods than they do, but we divide the profits with you, so it is YOUR HOME INDUSTRY you patronize when you patronize us. Below we give a few of our prices:

SEWING MACHINES $7.50, $10, $2, $5, $15.00, $30.00, $40.00 and up.

ORGANS $30, $50, $75 and up. PIANOS $175, $200, $225, $250, etc.

BICYCLES—Cheap grade $17.50, medium grade $25.00, high grade $40.00.

We sell more than a dozen brands of bicycles.

WALL PAPER from 3c a roll up. Large sample book to select from.

CARPET AND LINOLEUM to suit any and everybody both in material and price. All woodligns and Brussels 50c and up.

Buggies and Carriages—a handsome line at from $20 up to $100. Guns, Cutlery, Jewelry, Baby Carriages, Furniture, Hardware, Queen's Ware, Books, Musical Instruments—Everything, at prices corresponding with the above and everything guaranteed to be as represented or money refunded.

CONSUMERS' PURCHASING AGENCY, Officiate Armstrong's furniture store, 9th Street, between Main and Virginia, Hopkinsville, Ky.

Dying Chicks.

Nothing is more disappointing to the poultryman than to hatch out a nice brood of downy chicks and then have them all to die on by best care of them. If you hatch out a batch of fine, healthy chicks there is no reason why you should not raise at least 90 per cent of them, if you give them proper care.

The first thing one should learn is to keep them warm and see that they never get chilled. Here is where trouble nearly all arises. The chick cannot stand the least bit of cold and should be kept warm and comfortable. Do not allow them to get their feet wet nor to be in a draught. If in a brooder, be sure it can be relied upon to furnish plenty of heat the entire night.

If you will but notice, most chicks die at night, and just because they have been chilled in some way during the night. If they are chilled it deranges their whole system, and indigestion results.

As to their food, I would say feed anything and everything they will eat readily, if it is wholesome. See that they receive the proper amount of grit, meat, bone and water. They like cut green bones, which may be obtained at a butcher shop for almost nothing. Cut clover steamed and mixed with bran or corn meal is very necessary, and you will enjoy seeing them eat it so greedily.

One's object should be to keep the little fellows comfortable and contented from the time they enter the world until they are ready to go to market or table. Above all things, don't give them sloppy food. Mix the ground feed up as dry as possible and let the chickens drink water when they want it. Don't compel them to take more than they want of water in order to get something to eat. —Agricultural Epitomist.

Soft Shells.

The lime used by the hen to make egg shells comes from the food she eats, says the Stockman. Clover has a great deal of lime, so has bran, and so many other foods. The real value of oyster shells is their use as grit in grinding up the foods into a more digestible form.

If you are bothered with soft shell eggs feed the hens cut clover, steamed and mixed with bran, or cut green bones. This food or mixture is rich in soluble minerals that go to make the egg shell. For grit, broken china ware and sharp sand will be found much cheaper than oyster shells.

Another cause of soft shelled eggs is over feeding, which 'makes a hen too fat. A fat hen very often lays eggs that have no shell at all. Stop feeding her so much and make her exercise more and this trouble will be removed.

Gapes.

A Frenchman who has been making a thorough and extended research into the causes of gapes in fowls has formulated the following conclusion: 1. The cause of the disease is a small vermicular Parasite (two of which, the male and female, cling together) that infest the trachea or windpipe of the young fowls. 2. The larvae of the parasites are usually introduced into the fowl by being drunk in the water, though sometimes healthy chicks get them by eating the worms coughed up by those having them. 3. They may be prevented by putting a little salicylic acid in the water the chickens drink. 4. It may be cured by mixing garlic or onion freely in their food, or by mixing powdered asafoetida and powdered gentian with it.

The automobile has ceased to be a mere fad of society women, and becomes within a year's time, the biggest factor in the progress of modern civilization. The motor-power of the twentieth century animal will be mechanical, not animal—that is the prophecy. "The Horseless Age," the leading article for the May Demorest's, is a concise, accurate history of the success of the automobile in this country. One interesting fact stated by Mr. Dreiser in this article is, that already $35,000,000 have been invested in the various auto-truck companies in America.

If you have contracted rheumatism—no matter what form—Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm will cure it. This medicine so regulates the kidneys that the poisonous products which cause the disease are removed from the body through their natural channel. For sale by C. K. Wyly.

A talent of gold was thirteen thousand, eight hundred and nine dollars.

Many so called "bitters" are not medicine, but simply liquors disguised, so as to evade the law. PRICKLY ASH BITTERS is not one of this class. It is strictly a medicine, acting primarily on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and for the dangerous diseases that attack these organs it is a remedy of the first grade. There is nothing objectionable in its taste. It has a very agreeable flavor and is acceptable to the most delicate stomach.

A talent of silver was five hundred and thirty-eight dollars and thirty cents.

Goebel's election was also without opposition of any consequence. He was placed on one committee and the convention to show its entire confidence went further and put him on both committees.Maj. W. W. Thomas, of Palmetto, Ga., who pleaded for the life of the colored preacher, Strickland, was game to the core. After the mob had started away with Strickland a messenger was sent to advise Maj. Thomas to leave Palmetto for his own good, but the old gentleman was not frightened. He drew himself up and said emphatically:
"I have never before been ordered to leave a town, and I am not going to leave this one." And then the major, uplifting his hand to give his words force said to the messenger: "Tell them that the muscles in my legs are not trained to running. Tell them that I have stood the fire and heard the whistle of the minnies from a thousand yankee rifles, and I am not frightened by this crowd." Maj. Thomas was

The latest Georgia lynching is the worst that has occurred in recent years. It surpasses the Paris, Texas, affair of a few years ago, when a rapist was turned at the stake. This time the victim was subjected to the most horrible tortures and mutilations before being roasted in a slow fire. Afterwards the charred carcass was chopped into bits and distributed as souvenirs. The dying negro implicated a colored preacher in the murder that preceded his more fiendish crime, and on his testimony alone the mob hunted up the preacher and hanged him, although his employer, a man of the highest character and courage, pleaded for the man's life, declaring that the negro was innocent and begging for delay enough to hold an investigation. But the mob was mad for blood and would listen to nothing. At last accounts the people of an entire county were defying law and declaring that they would put to death all negroes who sympathized with the victims. Incidents of this sort are a disgrace to our civilization and horrify the whole country, but they teach a fearful lesson. The crime of rape must be stopped. On this subject public sentiment is the same in the North and the South.
The people will not put up with the usual slow processes of law. They demand the speedy punishment of the guilty parties. In the South where the masses are more courageous, the people do not hesitate to take the law into their own hands, and since plain hangings have not stopped the growing evil they are liable to follow the barbarous instincts of their ancestors in inventing new features to make death horrible to survivors who may become criminals. The law will have to be changed compelling the speedy trial of the rapist. If it was made imperative that a special grand jury should be empaneled, a court called to try the case at once, and in case of conviction the immediate execution of the rapist to follow then and there, the people would have more respect for the law. But as long as the law is powerless to punish promptly, the people will take the law into their own hands.
It is useless to talk about the shocking features of the executions.
The remedy is to stop the evil itself.
Then lynchings will cease and not until then.

Dr. Jos. Parker, a London preacher, roamed the Prince of Wales in a sermon and was cheered by the audience. He referred to him as "a certain card playing Prince" and said: "When the Prince falls, then let the country mourn. We look to princes for noble deeds and a high example. When I see my Prince and my Premier on the racecourse, I don't like it." These remarks were cheered by the audience, and Dr. Parker proceeded to make a rabid attack on the Sultan of Turkey.

The State convention that meets in June can do nothing better in the way of a platform than to simply endorse the Chicago principles.
Anything outside of that will be sucidal.—Guthrie Graphic.

The State convention cannot afford to pursue a cowardly course on State issues. A State platform must be adopted. The national election comes off next year.

MAY FORECASTS.

Weather for the Month Embracing That of All Seasons.Hicks sums up the weather for May as follows:

A marked low barometer with rising temperature, ending in storms of wind, thunder and rain, may naturally be looked for in most sections on one or more of the four first days of May. Change to much cooler weather will follow these disturbances and last for two or three days. From the 7th to 9th look for reaction to very much warmer, with falling barometer and more storms of rain, hail and thunder in many localities. One or two nights of probable frost will result in latitudes northward, about the 9th and 10th, but marked change to warmer will quickly return. A regular storm period is central on the 12th, covering the 11th to 15th. This period will develop a very high temperature for the season over most of the country. The barometer will be depressed generally, and some wide-reaching storms will appear on and touching the 12th to 14th. A reactionary disturbance centers on the 17th and 18th. More marked storm conditions will develop at this time, and Moon being on the equator on the 19th, the warm wave and electrical storms will hardly reach their crisis, or subside, before the date. Very cool weather comes immediately on the heels of electrical storm, during the last half of May. The temperature will fall low enough for snow squalls in the north, with heavy frosts at night. Marked hail storms are notable during the Venus periods.
May ends much warmer and threatening. The Venus period will culminate in June.

PRETTY ROMANCE ENDED.

Lieut. Sisson, Killed at Manila, Left an Inconsolable Sweetheart in Nebraska.

Columbus, Neb., April 25.—The death of Lieut. Lester E. Sisson, of the First Nebraska, at Manila, and the finding of his fiancée's photograph near his heart, where the fatal bullet entered, is the final chapter in a pretty romance, whose introduction was written in this village several years ago.

The photograph is the likeness of Miss Anna Taylor, one of the belles of Columbus. She is the youngest daughter of John F. Taylor, a wholesale lumber merchant and a distinguished citizen of Nebraska.
To-day the young girl is inconsolable, and her grief is pathetic to witness. She is at the residence of her parents, and none but the most intimate friends of the family are admitted. The fiancée of the dead soldier has not been known publicly as the betrothed of the dashing Lieutenant, although their attachment was generally understood throughout Columbus and the mutual friends knew of the engagement.

ANOTHER FATAL CASE.

Several More Persons Attacked
With Spinal Meningitis.

Another fatal case of spinal meningitis is reported. The victim was a 6-year-old child of Lucy Wallace, col., and died in the city last Wednesday, after a brief illness. There are two more cases in the city at present and several are reported in the country.

MAJOR MEANS.

A Hopkinsville Boy's Strong Hold on an Illinois Town.

The city election Tuesday was one of the most hotly contested elections held here in years. As much interest or more, was displayed than at the presidential election.
Almost every vote in the city was polled. The principal contest was over the mayorality race, and the interest in this fight overshadowed all others. Mayor J. W. Means, the present incumbent, sought re-election to the office he has held the past two years. A good deal of disatisfaction with the present administration was expressed and G.
Van Hoorbecke was selected to oppose Means. The desire of both factions to succeed was so strong that every effort was made to sway the vote. Means carried the First ward by 14 majority and the Third ward by 9. Van Hoorbecke received a majority of 20 in the Second ward. Means's majority in the city was therefore three. Below is the vote:

J. W. Means, 213; G. Van Hoorbecke, 210.—Carylie, Ill., Constitution.

nomination.

The last three named witnesses will show that Sommers got off the train on the day of the alleged bribery at Benson Station, this county, and returned here.

The counsel for the defendant gave in no list of witnesses to be called, and will probably introduce no evidence. Judge Pryor, of counsel, stated this afternoon that Mr. Sommers would not go on the witness stand in his own behalf, and that the case would probably be submitted at the close of the testimony for the Commonwealth.

The examination of witnesses was resumed to day.

ANIMATED ART TOURS.

The Next Attraction at the Opera House a Fine One.

D. E. Frantz's Animated Art Tours gives an entertainment in this city May 4. The pictures are far the finest ever seen in this city. The pictures by both machines are perfect scenes of Battles, Marches, Bombardment, Troops at drill, and many scenes from all over the world comprising nearly one hundred different subjects.

The hit of the evening is the professor's rivalry of the great magicians, and placing the laws of gravitation at defiance. A man falls up easier than he falls down. Scenes of this character are produced without limit, and keep the audience convulsed with laughter. The Military Company drills at the command of the audience. The ships appearing and disappearing at command are wonderful and beyond description.

It is this feature of producing at will any picture, that distinguishes the machine from all others, and it is the only one in the world. The entertainment is wholesome, full of instruction, and immensely pleasing.

CHAMPLIN-RUTHERFORD.

Young Tobacco Man Takes Into Himself a Bride.

Mr. Green H. Champlin, a prominent young tobacco man, and Miss Katie Rutherford, were married Wednesday evening at eight o'clock at the bride's home in this city. The ceremony was performed by Dr. W. L. Xourse, of the Ninth Street Presbyterian church. The groom, who lives with his mother, took his bride to his home on Clay street.

The marriage is a culmination of a love affair of several years duration.

Mr. Champlin is identified with the tobacco trade and is one of the most capable book-keepers in the city. His bride is the youngest daughter of the late R. B. Rutherford and is a niece of Judge J. I. Landes.

The young couple have many friends who wish them much happiness.

SEEK SEPARATION.

Several Divorce Suits Filed in the Circuit Court.

Carrie L. Harding sues her husband, W. H. Harding, for divorce. She alleges that her husband has failed to make provision for her maintenance. Case will be tried at September term.

Jas. Lewis wants a legal separation from his wife, Elcra Lewis. They were married in April '98 and the petition states that they only lived together 23 days.

Annie Moseley sues for divorce from Quarles Moseley, her husband. The petition alleges that the couple only lived together 14 days.

The Sick.

The condition of Mr. W. H. Jesup is thought to be somewhat improved.

Mr. D. A. Tandy is able to be up again, but he is still quite weak.

Col. A. H. Clark's condition is unimproved and he is growing weaker with each day.

Heavy Sales.

The tobacco market was firm and active this week at about last week's prices. The breaks were composed largely of common leaf and lugs. Sales were heavy and receipts continue large.

Lodged in Jail.

Ed Ware, col. indicted at the last term of court on a charge of gaming, was arrested at Gracey Wednesday by Deputy Wilkins and lodged in jail.

"A word to the wise is sufficient" and you ask, who are the wise? Those who know. The oft-repeated experience of trustworthy persons may be taken for knowledge.

Mr. W. M. Terry says Chamberlain's Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other in the market. He has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for twelve years, has sold hundreds of bottles of this remedy and nearly all cough medicines manufactured, which show conclusively that Chamberlain's is the most satisfactory to the people.

FOUR PER CENT RAISE.

Committee Sent to Frankfort to Protest Against Increase.

The State Board of Equalization has "raised" Christian county's assessment of real estate and personalty four per cent.

Judge Cansler appointed Messrs. John P. Prowse, Jas. F. Rogers and Jas. W. Morgan a committee to go to Frankfort and enter protest against the proposed increase. The committee went to Frankfort yesterday and will appear before the board to-day.

Breeding of Brown Leghorns.

There are many different shades and tinges of color on breast, neck, back, and wings, according to the peculiar fancy of the breeder who has manipulated their breeding. We see them frequently bred so dark that the females almost resemble the Brown Red Game.

You see in those extremely dark specimens; you fail to get the fine willow color, so beautiful in the medium light specimens where the brown and the lighter golden are proportioned rightly; it becomes more of a dead brown; it is rather a hard matter to describe accurately, but we can tell quickly enough when we come across those of the proper shade. The breasts also become too dark; instead of a dark salmon, they attain more to a brown tinge, peculiar as I said, to the Brown Red Game; while on the other hand, we find some breeding so light as to produce a sort of a clay-colored breast, lacking the reddish or salmon tinge almost entirely. We see the effect upon the males of the darker stock in the hackles, saddles and wing bows; instead of the brilliant or orange red, described by the Standard, we have a dark mahogany or almost solid brown. When a standard bird is placed beside one of these the contrast is very decided.

Then we have the extremely light male with lemon hackle and saddle, similar to the Black Breasted Red Game, a mate to our clay breasted females; and these are no vain fancies, they are found almost every day in our travels at the shows and fairs. They are the results of ruts that breeders have fallen into and as they have been in them for some time, have made up their minds that they are on the right track, not stopping to investigate the Standard or any thing else; they simply think because they have been breeding that way for so many years, it makes it right, and they do not like to knock under any one.

Friends, better stop short and face the music; consider the matter carefully and candidly, and if you find your stock in the wrong do not hesitate to admit it, at least to yourself, and make a change, either by selling off the stock on hand, purchasing others of the proper shade, or what we think a better way, especially if you have valuable points, aside from these defects, such as good combs, earlobes, fine shape backs, tails, etc., and good typical carriage. Buy a good colored male to mate with these best females, one either lighter or darker, as the case may require, and then use the pullets from this mating with a bird similar in color; and you will soon see where you should be, on the color question, and at the same time retain the valuable points of your former stock.

There are so many breeders that do not study the Standard enough on their own breeds. In fact, we are all too much prone to think we know what they should be and go ahead on that line, even the judges may always learn something by becoming more familiar with our Standard—I tell you there is nothing like it! In some towns there have clubs to practice scoring, and study the Standard on the different breeds, and learn to apply it. I think this a good plan and I would like to see more of them. Let the good work go on.—F. J. MARSHALL in Fanciers Gazette.

The citizens of Louisville has raised a guarantee fund to cover the expenses of the May Music Festival, May 8th, 9th and 10th, and prices will be lower than for any other similar festival ever given. Season tickets will be only $5, and $7 for the five concerts in which some of the greatest singers in the world will appear several weeks to relatives.

KNOCKED OUT.

Lexington's Appropriation for the Encampment.

Lexington, Ky., April 24.—Judge Parker this morning declared the city ordinance appropriating $8,336 for the military encampment last fall unconstitutional, null and void. Maj. H. C. McDowell, who advanced the money, is out that much. It is thought that an appeal will be taken. This decision, if sustained, is far-reaching, as it makes illegal all appropriations for other than strictly municipal purposes in Louisville and elsewhere in the state.

MOTHER SLAYS BABIES.

Because of Ill-Health and Poverty She Commits Double Murder.

Braxton C. H. W. Va., April 25.—Because of ill-health, poor financial circumstances and the fact that her husband had died recently after a long illness, Mrs. Terry Shetler, aged twenty-nine, living thirteen miles from this place, cut her two babies' throat and took poison. She may be saved, but it is hardly probable.

Mustered Out.

Savannah, Ga., April 25.—The One Hundredth and Sixtieth Indiana Regiment was mustered out here to-day. The men left for home in companies over the Florida Central & Peninsular Railroad, during the afternoon, in four specials.

Regardless of Age.

The kidneys are responsible for more sickness, suffering, and deaths than any other organs of the body.

A majority of the ills afflicting people to-day are traceable to kidney trouble. It prevails all classes of society, in all climates, regardless of age, sex or condition.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are unmistakable, such as rheumatism, neuralgia, sleeplessness, pain or dull ache in the back, a desire to urinate often at night, profuse or scanty supply.

Uric acid, or brick-dust deposit in the urine, signs of clogged kidneys, causing pain and general debility. Sometimes the heart acts badly, and tube casts (wasting of the kidneys) are found in the urine, which neglected will result in Bright's Disease, the most dangerous form of kidney trouble.

All these symptoms and conditions are promptly removed under the treatment of Dr. J. C. Williams' Swamp-Root. It has a world wide reputation for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

No one need be long without it as it is so easy to get at any drug store at fifty cents or one dollar. You can have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery, Swamp-Root, and book telling all about it, both sent to you absolutely free by mail. Send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and kindly mention that you read this liberal offer in the HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKIAN.

A Welcome Exhibition.

The announcement that Prof. Gentry's famous dog and pony show is soon to exhibit in this city has led to numerous inquiries about the details, such as the location of the grounds and prices of admission. The character of the show is well known that people will regard the information as news and consequently we have made inquiries with the following result: The show, which it is needless to mention, is the best one of its kind in the world, will exhibit under their own water-proof tents which will be located on Campbell street near Acme mill Monday May 1, afternoon at 2:30 night at 8.

The prices of admission are children 15c., adults 25c., and when the magnitude and artistic worth of the show is taken into consideration it will easily be seen that the prices of admission are decidedly reasonable.

Champion Egg Eater.

A Runsey, Ky., correspondent of the Evansville Courier writes: "I was reading the Courier of April 14 about George Kertrig's feat of eating twenty-five raw eggs. I want to say that is nothing compared with what the Rev. J. S. Harrod, of our town, did. He first offered to eat twenty eggs if any person would pay for them. Then he proposed to eat one dozen more. They were bought for him and he ate them also, and so on until he had eaten the enormous number of fifty-two and said he would eat ten more if any one would get them. Brother Harrod is a man weighing only 130 pounds and is a judge of police court here. The eggs were eaten

KITCHEN & WALLER.

301 South Main Street, Hopkinsville, Ky.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

I have replaced my jack Napoleon, that I lost last fall with the above jack, which has given himself to be one of the greatest jennet or mule jacks in the State of Tennessee or Kentucky. He is 16 hands high, black and white points, 19 feet from muzzle to root of tail. His size is no freak of nature, but is inherited from a number of his celebrated ancestors, distinguished for great size, such as Nick Bottom, Black Prince, Kentucky Mammoth, Imp, Black Forest and others.

He will stand at my farm 24 miles from Casky by the insurance of $10, money due when annual ascertained to be in full and transferred.

KING GEORGE.

King George is five years old, 15½ hands high, black with white points, by Silver Brown and out of Mary Beard and I consider unequalled by any jack in the county. He will make this season at $5 on the same terms as before. Care will be taken to prevent accidents but will not be responsible should any occur. Jennets kept on good pasture at $1.50 per month. R. F. RIVES, Casky, Ky.

SPECIAL LOCALS.

The rich man's whiskey is HARPER because it is supremely delicious. This poor man's whiskey is HARPER, because such good whiskey helps him. The family whiskey is HARPER, because it's pure, pleasant and strengthening. Sold by W. R. Loxo, Hopkinsville, Ky.

HELD INVALID.

Judge Cantrell so Decides in the Case Brought to Test Parole Law.

Frankfort, Ky., April 25.—Judge Cantrell, of the State Fiscal Court, this morning decided the case of Eph Lillard, Warden, vs. Board of Prison Commissioners, involving the agreed case to test the constitutionality of the parole law. Judge Cantrell holds the law to be invalid under section 253 of the Constitution, which provides that convicts shall not be worked outside of the walls, except on public works. The case will be appealed.

Jackson, Miss., Jan. 17 1899. I have for years been a sufferer from kidney and bladder trouble. I have tried all remedies that I could find, and had almost given up all hope of ever getting relief, until I tried Hall's Great Discovery. I am now using it and feel like a new man. It's effect is wonderful.

SEASON OF 1899.

To Our Friends: Another season of seed time is fast approaching, and the wise and prudent farmer will again use the old and favorably known JONES' BRANDS OF BONE AND ANIMAL MATTER FERTILIZERS, that have for many years done their full duty when applied to both Spring and Fall crops. The use of commercial Fertilizers is almost universal, and the experience of many years has proven conclusively that ANIMAL MATTER FERTILIZERS are the most complete plant food known, and the fact of putting ACID PHOSPHATE ROCK in a bag and branding it "DIS SOLVED BONE" does not make it animal matter. Honest strictly pure Animal Matter Fertilizers cost more than rock goods because they are worth more, and we ask that you remember this fact. Our goods go out under our guarantee analysis, and this guarantee is good. We offer our goods on their merits, and refer with great satisfaction to their most excellent reputation in all parts of Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky, where they are extensively used. We respectfully assure you that the celebrated Jones Fertilizing Co.'s goods are a trial on both Spring and Fall crops, and we know satisfactory results and future orders will certainly follow.

THE STAY-AT-HOME.

There's dress an' hose to buy fr' Jane—
A pair o' pants fr' John.
A whole outfit fr' Buster Bill,
An' winter clothing on.

But baby Nan, the stay-at-home,
His laugh an' never know That all on-eg-on his back wear
Is ole made-over clothes.

There's books to buy fr' them at school—
It makes a pore man think
To hear 'em holler "Daddy!"
An' "mental arithmetic!"

But, thank the Lord, the stay-at-home
Is mighty cheap to please:
He gits the family's allowance
An' reads it on her knees.

An' writin'-books an' drawin'-books—
They never seem to think How we must coast on our rich truck,
An' pencils, pens, an' ink.

But little Nan, the stay-at-home,
She knows her home-made moccasins,
An' crows, an' crawls about.

"Pears like that all I rake an' scrape You've hardly said!"
The pressin' needs o' Bill an' John An' Jane an' ma an' I.

But baby Nan, the stay-at-home,
Is full o' sweet content:
His cuddles up a case of mumps Contracted in camp. Alas, hard was fate!

And so it was with doubting heart
That he paid his first call. It was sad, He heard sung the praises of the gallant Rough riders and the heroic Dewey; he heard the girl declare that did the women have votes Roosevelt should be the next president. Nor was that all. In heart-breaking desperation he had seized the words "postal money" to make an offer of his heart and hand, and the same had been almost contemptuously refused.

"It seems evident," soliloquized Lieut.
McKenney, wond'ring his way sadly homeward, "that my war record is not my strong suit in this deal. But who shall see, we shall see," and he sat late in his room, smoking many big, strong, meditative pipes.

The next evening he honored Miss Fremont with another call, at which she was scarcely able to conceal her surprise. It did not seem the natural order of things for the rebuffed—nay, almost ridiculed—suitor to bob up serenely.
Perhaps her sarcasms had not been appreciated. She would make it certain that this young gentleman should no longer be in doubt as to her sentiments regarding soldiers who allowed themselves to be kept safely in camp, while their brothers—men of sterner stuff—were battling in blood for their country's glory.

"I am so glad that your poor wounded neck does not keep you indoors," was her sarcastic greeting. "Such a serious hurt was enough to keep any man out of battle."

McKenney smiled grimly. "You are pleased to be facetious, Miss Fremont.
But it was not so easy as you imagined to get to the front. We tried our best."

"Yes, you are right. It needed men Why, from the beginning even the newspapers knew that if there was to be any fighting Teddy's Terrors would be right in the thickest of it, and they were. Col. Roosevelt is a man with a will. Ah! if my poor women could vote, how quickly we would make him president!"

"Yes, so you said last night," interrupted McKenney, hoping to get her out of that strain.

"Ah, jealous!" she cried, "jealous!
Really, Mr. McKenney, if you are so jealous of those who have proven themselves men of sterner stuff than yourself, you should at least have the tact to conceal it."

"Women were always cruel," the lieutenant remarked, sadly.

"Cruel!" she cried, indignantly, straightening up in her chair. "Cruel! But I noticed that company D was so utterly lacking in cruelty, so fearful of hurting some one, of wounding the poor Spaniards' hands that they were careful not to leave their camp. Lieut. Mc-Kenney, I should think that you would expire from shame. Twenty thousand heroes bore the suffering of crowded transports and heaped the enemy in his hair. The gallant rough riders charged him the first day. Their brothers, their fighting brothers, were not behind.
Their names are writ in blood on the slopes of Canby and San Juan. Nothing kept them from the front. Forward, ever forward, they went right up to the cannon's mouth; 'guns to the right of them, guns to the left of them, men dropping around them like hail—or—er—er—bullets—bullets, dropping around them like hail, men falling as—as—gras for before the seythe. Heroes they were, etc."

McKenney had always known that she was a beautiful girl, but as she stood before him now with eyes flashing, a burning red spot in each cheek, trembling in her enthusiasm, and showing such a glorious picture that he vowed a mighty vow in his inmost soul that she should be his; and the rough riders and all the other heroes, individually and collectively, might rot in their graves before they got her.

"In the drama of war, Miss Fremont," he said, "all the star parts are not cast on the field of battle. Some of the most brave scenes are acted out in the quiet only by the few. Those whose lot it is to fight, it may be to fall—to shed from bullet wound or saber gash their life's blood—are fortunate, indeed.

They may be brave men; they may be courageous who go forward cut; because they fear the jeers of their comrades; these are cowards. Whatever their impelling motive, they are urged on by the knowledge that an expectant audience at home will greet with loud acclams their slightest deed; their triumphal arcs are sure to be awaiting them.
But we poor devils in camp, Miss Fremont—who have, of us, or even to hear? And yet, believe me, those few who know consider some of us 'camp loungers' as deserving of praise as any listener.

He had spoken feelingly, and his listener was becoming impressed.
"I am sure I do not understand," was all she could say.

"How should you? You have heard only one side. You know Charlie Malloy, the old dress-maker's son?"

"Yes, he died—not gloriously, at the cannon's mouth, but shamefully cordially, you would say, in a camp hospital. His last words were—I was with him—'Oh, my poor mother! Who will care for her?' But his was a woman's death, so what does it matter? He only had the fever, and Dr. Stanley—you were berating him last night—'shameful shirk,' I believe, was your rather strong expression. And yet, seeing all his chances of what the multitude, the unthinking, consider the only service deserving plaudits and praise—work on the field of battle—slipping away from him one by one, cheerfully and patiently continued his duties among the sick around him. You no doubt read of Dr. Bob Church's heroism in Las Guasimas. We got the news one night about supper time, and Stanley, giving no sign of the bitter disappointment he was feeling because no such lucky chances were to be his, spent the rest of the night in the hospital caring for his charges, who were not suffering from battle wounds, but only prolonged fever. There was no glory in it—only duty. And you do not call that nobility?"

"Ask some of those poor devils whose lives depended on his tenderness and skill at Chikamauga, Miss Fremont, and they will tell you stories of that youngster that should make you proud to call him your friend."

"I had never thought of all that," she said.

There were a hundred chances of dying in our camp," he continued, as she did not speak, "to one among those heroes at Santiago. They could lie in their trenches, secure from Spanish bullets, but how could we dodge the enger of typhoid, of malaria, of—er—of mumps?" (She was a young thing.)

"Death was in the air we breathed, in the water we drank. Far be it from me to praise myself, Miss Fremont; but when a fellow has tried his best, and done full duty, too, if it do it comes hard on him to be abused and ridiculed, especially, in a lower tone, by one from whom he had hoped such different things."

McKenney had risen and stood looking around as if for his hat. He had left it in the hall, as he well knew.

"Surely, you are not going so early?" she said, in sudden anxiety, laying her hand on his arm.

"Yes, I do not feel as if I could bear more to-night."

"I did not mean to hurt you; I did not mean to be cruel," said the girl.

"I suppose I will have to get used to that sort of thing," he answered, martyrlically. "I should be thankful to be safely out of that death's hole, where so many brave fellows—ah, pardon me, cowards—were left in their graves. My soulver will soon be healed," and he moved his neck stiffly, an expression of pain flitting over his face.

"Oh, Mr. McKenney—Joseph—forgive my cruelty!"

"Yes, Miss Fremont, I do. It hurt, but you did not know. I forgive you freely."

"I would say more, would say again that I love you, but you would consider it too low to be loved by a coward—"

"Joseph, my dearest—just I never said that; I never meant it. You are the most really brave, noble man—in some way or other she was in his arms (she time)—"Oh, be careful of your poor neck."

"It hurts only when I turn it straight-ways, not when I bend it straight down, and Lieut. Joseph McKenney kissed Miss Louisa Fremont again by way of illustration.

Which, I suppose, makes an end of this story—N. O. Times-Democrat.

I was reading an advertisement of

I have used it many times for "The blood is the life." Science has never gone beyond that simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given a meaning, never broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease.

The brain also clouds the mind, and judgment are affected, and many an evil deed of impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. For one can be well balanced in mind and body when blood is impure. No one can have a wholesome and pure life unless the blood is pure. Pure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr.

SUIT AGAINST THE I. C.

Jas. A. Radford Asks $1,500 Damages for Injuries to Animal.

Mr. James A. Radford has filed suit for $1,500 against the Illinois Central railroad for alleged damages to his fine stallion, King Aleon III. The petition states that on March 22, 1899, Mr. Radford contracted with the defendants for the shipment of five head of horses from Hopkinsville to Evansville in consideration of $27.00, cash in advance. They were loaded, says the plaintiff, with all possible care in the defendant's yards and in one of their cars, and while en route a standard bred black stallion was shipped, owing to alleged careless handling on the part of the defendant's employees.
